What is SmartXide? SmartXide is a fractional CO2 laser treatment that uses dermal optical thermolysis (aka DOT therapy) to treat skin conditions like wrinkles and fine lines, hyperpigmentation, enlarged pores, loss of elasticity, and acne scars. Traditional CO2 lasers are ablative, which means they remove the skin's surface layer.

DOT Therapy is a process whereby microscopic dots (somewhat like mini-channels) are created in the skin using CO2 laser energy (fractional laser). The pin-point channels resemble columns. These are essentially scanned onto your skin with a scanner hand piece that creates super-fine channels through different layers of your skin.
